Lives and works in
Medellin, Colombia

BIOGRAPHY

Juliana Correa is an industrial designer from the Universidad Pontificia Bolivariana in Medellin and a specialist in Creative Intervention from the Colegiatura Colombiana. She has more than thirty years of experience in design and textile, fifteen of which she dedicated to lead her company and create the OnA brand, a recognized and awarded brand in the fashion industry.

Since 2018, she has focused her work on creating textile pieces, using the recovery and transformation of stored scraps seeking to re-signify waste materials. Environmental awareness and social balance are transversal axes in her work.
